

Jobs

Applications are being accepted for positions as Teaching and Research Associates at Gujarat Maritime University (GMU).

For the posts of Teaching Associate and Research Associate with the School of Maritime Law, Policy, and Administration, Gujarat Maritime University (GMU) is accepting applications from qualified applicants.

Description of the Job

- Highly qualified and driven individuals are encouraged to apply to become part of the vibrant academic and research community at the institution.

- Through their teaching, research, and administrative duties in the areas of maritime law, policy, and administration, the chosen candidates will be required to support the institution's academic quality.
- Function and Accountabilities

The incumbent will carry out the following duties and responsibilities under the direction and general supervision of the Provost, Dean, Director, and Registrar:

(i) Collaborate with teaching and research personnel, including honorary members and students, to carry out multidisciplinary legal research;

(ii) As needed, help teaching and research professionals with their research;

(iii) Create, organize, carry out, oversee, and document multidisciplinary research in cooperation with outside academic institutions, government agencies, business and economic associations, and the courts in India and elsewhere;

(iv) Educate general teaching faculty members on current research advancements and new trends in their domains;

(v) Take part in the general planning and development of the University's training, research, academic, and extension programs and activities;

(vi) Carry out training and extension initiatives in the field of law that are grounded in research;

(vii) Carry out any additional tasks that are necessary to accomplish the goals and objectives of the university, such as administrative and coordinating tasks.

Compensation: a fixed monthly salary of ₹45,000.

- The application form, which is available on the official GMU website at www.gmu.edu.in, must be filled out by interested candidates.
- No later than January 1, 2025 (01/01/2025), the filled-out application form and any required supporting documentation should be emailed to career@gmu.edu.in.
- Comprehensive information about the precise duties and responsibilities of the positions, together with the eligibility requirements, can be found in the advertisement notification (given below).

- All potential candidates are urged to thoroughly read the paper to make sure they fulfill the requirements and qualities listed.
- Please visit the official Gujarat Maritime University website or consult the comprehensive advertisement notification for more details and to obtain the application form.
- Think about posting your needs on Bar & Bench Classifieds!
- Ravi can be reached at ravi [at] barandbench [dot] com.

Lawread